

Building A Mortgage-Free Home In the UK?

The creators of George Clarke's Amazing Spaces and Shed of the Year, are looking for people to take part in an inspiring new Channel 4 series that follows individuals who have decided they want to be mortgage-free by designing and building their own home.

Whether you are selling your house to raise the funds or using your savings we want to hear from you if you are determined to live mortgage-free.

So however big or small your budget and however creative or unconventional your building design, please get in touch and tell us about your self-build project.
